MEMBER GROUPS

Mission Statement

As a Member Group of the Love and Fidelity Network, we believe that casual, liberationist sentiments toward sex, sexuality, and relationships are detrimental to the health and well-being of our fellow students. We are committed to upholding the institution of marriage, the unique role of the family, and sexual integrity (chastity) within our campus community. Furthermore, we are alarmed that our peers are ignorant of the reasons and arguments defending these principles. Out of concern for our fellow students and in order to balance and enrich campus conversation on these matters, we are committed to engaging these topics through a variety of activities, such as campus lectures, articles, and discussion. We strive for civility and intellectual honesty in our discussion of these topics, and we welcome all those interested in our activities irrespective of faith or creed. We do not require a chastity pledge from our members, but instead encourage them to make personal commitments to uphold the norms and values of the group, offering them the support they need to do so.

Benefits of Membership

- Yearly stipend for campus lectures
- Monthly conference call with Love and Fidelity Network staff to discuss goals and events
